

Airlift Excellence...Right Here...Right Now!

62 AW/CC Roll Call

10 October 2013

Team McChord,

I'd like to talk to you for a moment about professional development. There are many roads to success in our Air Force. Take some time and think about how you define "success". Rank? Wealth? Family? Service? Also, think about what gives you "satisfaction", what makes you happy. Leading Airmen? Being the best at your job? Finally, we must be honest about our individual talents and what we can do to refine those abilities. As we go through our Air Force careers, I encourage everyone to get the most out of every opportunity, but don't do things just to "check a box". Regardless of what path you choose, thank you for serving our great nation!

Professional of the Week

TSgt Kenneth Markline, 62d AMXS

Learn More at:
<http://www.62aw.af.mil/news>

October is Energy Awareness Month!

In 2012, the Air Force saved more than $1.5 billion through smarter buildings, new technologies, and more efficient flight operations. In these challenging financial times, we all have to look for ways to help cut down on energy costs. What can you do?

Visit:

<http://www.youtube.com/energyaction>
for a short video and:

<http://www.afcec.af.mil/news/energyactioninfo>
for more information on ways each of us can help.

Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) is back!

Now through 15 December, you can give through your unit POCs or at www.CFCgive.org. Every donation matters, regardless of the amount! On 18 Oct from 0900-1200, 6 local charities from CFC will be represented at the MPF mall, so stop by and find out how you can make a difference in our community!

www.facebook.com/62ndairliftwingcommander

@62d AW Commander

David Kumashiro
David Kumashiro, Col, USAF
Commander

Integrity, Service, Excellence