

62 AW/CC Roll Call

23 October 2014

Team McChord,

Effective communication is indeed a hallmark of all successful organizations. In an organization as big as our Air Force, it's important to ensure that our methods for sharing information are timely and relevant. Our communication system must be also be agile enough to recognize changes in the environment and flexible enough to adapt to those changes. With the proliferation of social media, 24-hour news cycles, and the ever-increasing demands on our attention, we need to take a step back occasionally to examine our own communication techniques and identify opportunities to improve. I'm excited to share that we've taken steps to look at our wing processes, and over the next couple of months, you might notice a few changes in how certain key pieces of information are shared. Whether as a sender or receiver, each of us plays an important role in making sure guidance and intent reaches every single Airman. Thanks for your continued support!

PROFESSIONALS OF THE WEEK

SSgt Ramsey Tesch, 62 APS

SrA Sipriano Requena, 62 APS

On the Horizon...

Santa's Castle
Here's a great opportunity to participate in a program that directly benefits our Airmen and families. Drop off toy donations in the customer service mall of bldg. 100.

Enlisted Evaluation System (EES) Mass Briefings
Want to find out how the new EES affects you? Come to the McChord Field Theater and hear from the experts. Dates and times are 27 Oct (1300-1400), 28 Oct (0700-0800), and 28 Oct (1300-1400).

Halloween Safety:
For young kids, Halloween is one of the best nights of the year. However, trick-or-treating can be dangerous if kids and parents aren't careful. 62 APS will perform candy X-Rays at the Passenger Terminal 31 Oct (1800-2200) & 1 Nov 0800-1600). For Halloween safety tips, click here.