

Airlift Excellence...Innovative Airmen...Respect For All!

62 AW/CC Roll Call

7 January 2015

Team McChord,

Happy New Year! As the calendar flips over to 2015 and we all start making New Year's resolutions, it's appropriate for us to take a step back and learn the lessons from 2014. Make no doubt, the principal take away from last year, like every year, is that SAFETY is our business. Unlike some of those New Year's resolutions that don't stick, safety is a year-round commitment. We must take extra care to ensure we make good choices and remain steadfast in accomplishing our mission safely. As a result of a recent rise in mishaps, and in order to re-evaluate how we're doing and where we can improve, tomorrow the 62 AW will conduct a safety down day focused on "Getting Back to Basics" as it relates to the importance of adhering to safety fundamentals at all times. We have to be careful never to take for granted these core principles; the cost, quite simply, is too great. As I've often said, our Airmen are our greatest asset...THAT MEANS YOU! Whether you're on or off-duty, with friends, family, or your Wingman, remember to think safety 24/7/365!

Air Force Safety Center

Safety is your responsibility regardless of age, rank, or job. Click here to visit the Air Force Safety Center (AFSEC) website to learn more about what you can do to prevent safety mishaps. The site contains valuable tools and training materials that will enhance your awareness of the importance of creating a safety conscious culture in everything you do. Check out videos of Airmen whose lives were forever changed due to a decision not to put safety first.
