HEADQUARTERS AIR MOBILITY COMMAND

MEMORANDUM FOR ALL AMC PERSONNEL

SUBJECT: Commander's Safety and Risk Management Policy

1. Every day, the men and women of Air Mobility Command (AMC) perform amazing feats enabling rapid global mobility. Risk Management (RM) is the fundamental building block that enables us to successfully execute our mission while minimizing risk to vital resources needed to ensure continued combat capabilities and meet tomorrow's challenges.
2. Each member of Air Mobility Command must make a conscious effort to make the right choices. Preventable accidents and injuries reduce our operational readiness, impact the ops tempo, and can have a significant impact on unit morale. All Airmen must comply with safety and health standards and feel empowered to say something when they see a fellow Airman accepting undue risk. To be successful, everyone needs to work together with the common goal of preventing mishaps and saving lives.
3. I am very proud of what AMC Airmen do each and every day. I expect commanders and supervisors at all levels to encourage a proactive safety culture so that risks to our Airmen and operations can be identified, assessed, and mitigated at the appropriate levels.

MICHAEL A. MINIHAN
General, USAF
