62 AW/CC Roll Call

24 July 2013

Team McChord, this first week in the seat has been an absolute whirlwind. Across the board, your passion, energy, and professionalism continue to impress me. As I walk around meeting you, the most frequent issue I'm asked about is the impact of civilian furloughs and sequestration. As much as I'd like to give you an answer, the truth is we don't have much in the way of additional information or guidance. However, know that you have my commitment to pass the latest information to you as soon as we get it. Thanks again for all you do for our great Air Force. We'll see you at Friday's Team McChord run!

Smartphone Apps. I'm quickly learning that just navigating around a base as large as JBLM can be challenging. If you haven't tried them out yet, I just downloaded two apps that have been a huge help. JBLM_MWR has maps, directories, and operating hours for dozens of MWR facilities at JBLM. Another app, myMC², is perfect for Airmen who are frequently TDY to other installations. It displays events and contact information for bases around the globe. Both of these apps are free and they are great tools, whether you are new to Team McChord or just want to get more involved.

Social Media. I'm sure many of you have noticed my plugs for the 62 AW/CC Facebook and Twitter pages at the bottom of the Roll Call. As a new member of Team McChord, I plan to use these forums to share photos and stories of the amazing Airmen I meet every day. Social media sites are a great way to share information and communicate with friends and family. However, as members of the military we are required to keep our communications respectful and in accordance with the UCMJ. See AFI 35-115 for more information on Air Force social media guidance, or visit: <http://www.au.af.mil/pace/epubs/afi35-113%20.pdf>.
