

Innovative Airmen...Airlift Excellence...Respect For All!

62 AW/CC Roll Call

16 January 2014

Team McChord,

This past Friday it was my pleasure to attend a retirement ceremony for an innovative Airman who has made a distinctly positive impact on both Team McChord and our Air Force. Lt Col Laura Kreitler served as Chief Pilot for the 10th Airlift Squadron and embodied our Air Force's core values of Integrity, Service, and Excellence. In addition to amassing more than 7,000 flight hours, she committed herself to instructing and mentoring Airmen both in and out of the aircraft. Lt Col Kreitler demanded precision and excellence from herself as well as her fellow Airmen, and we will continue to reap the benefits of her leadership for years to come. Blue skies and tailwinds, Laura!

Army & Air Force Career Alumni Program (AACAP)

Transitioning out of the military can be a stressful experience. However, one of the benefits of being on a Joint Base is that we can take advantage of Air Force and Army programs. The Army & Air Force Career Alumni Program is something we borrowed from our Army partners because it was actually better than our existing transition assistance program. If you are transitioning into the civilian sector, AACAP is a mandatory program that walks you through subjects like resume building, networking events, mock interviews and many more. To learn more about AACAP classes or to find out how to sign up, call the AACAP office at (253) 982-2948 or visit: <http://www.62aw.af.mil/library/aacap.asp>

Personally Identifiable Information (PII)

PII breaches continue to be an ongoing concern in the Air Force. In 2013, Air Mobility Command had approximately 90

PII breaches that affected over 70,000 individuals. If you suspect a potential PII breach, follow the reporting process and notify your supervisor and security manager right away. Continue to be vigilant and take the appropriate precautions before you send an email that may contain personal information.
