

The McChord Way...Excellence, Innovation, Respect

62 AW/CC Roll Call

25 Mar 2016

Team McChord,

Our Airmen are our most valuable resource. Over the next several weeks, I would like to ask each of you to take a minute and reflect on the Airmen that you work with. Most of us are familiar with the golden rule...treat others as you would like to be treated. Treating everyone with dignity and respect whether they are on or off duty, uniformed or civilian, is what allows us to successfully carry out our mission every day. There are going to be times when the individuals you work with need a little extra help, time, or understanding. Developing and Caring for Airmen and their Families is one of my top priorities...take a minute to think about how you can care for those around you.

April is Sexual Assault Awareness & Prevention Month. Remember that Airmen are our Air Force's best asset in preventing sexual assaults. Professional, dedicated Airmen who take care of their Wingmen every day of the year will help eliminate sexual assault from our ranks. Every Airman who enforces professionalism in their workplace and insists their Wingmen treat each other with dignity and respect is taking action to eliminate sexual assault.

Another program that reinforces caring for each other is the Air Force Assistance Fund (AFAF) campaign. The 2016 AFAF campaign kicked off this week and will run for the next six weeks. There are several opportunities for each of you to get involved and help your fellow Airmen. Please read the letter on page two for more information.

Thank you for taking care of each other! I am proud to serve with all of you and proud of the way that we take care of our own!

MEMORANDUM FOR TEAM MCCHORD PERSONNEL

FROM: 62 AW/CC

Joint Base Lewis-McChord WA 98438-1199

SUBJECT: Air Force Assistance Fund Campaign

1. The annual Air Force Assistance Fund (AFAF) campaign kicked off on 21 March 2016, giving us all another opportunity to help our fellow Airmen when they need it most. The AFAF campaign supports four charities that are dedicated to caring for Airmen from induction through retirement and beyond.

2. The four charities are the Air Force Aid Society, General and Mrs. Curtis E. LeMay Foundation, the Air Force Village, and the Air Force Enlisted Village. These are not charities you will see in your Combined Federal Campaign lineup. They are an example of Air Force members taking care of their own—Airmen Helping Airmen. Our annual campaign demonstrates this fact, that Airmen take care of our own!

3. Team McChord's goal for this year is $71,668! Key workers should be visiting your work center soon to let you know all about the campaign. They will answer any questions you may have and give you the opportunity to donate if you should so choose. You will also be able to participate in the campaign through fundraising events. I encourage you to get involved if you can. This year, as noted by Secretary James, General Welsh, and Chief Cody it's not about Airmen giving more, it's about more Airmen giving! I invite our private organizations and units to be creative and have fun with fundraisers for AFAF over the next six weeks.

4. While the average Air Force base has historically had between a 19 and 30 percent participation rate from their active duty members, I believe Team McChord is far ABOVE average! Chief Mazid and I strongly encourage everyone to give serious consideration to donating to any one of these four worthy charities. A few dollars a month from your paycheck will ensure your fellow Airmen have the assistance they need when they need it most. Further, in the future, you may find that our AFAF charities will be there for you should you need them.

5. Thank you for continuing our proud tradition in our "Commitment to Caring" through giving to the AFAF Campaign.
